This is the time of year when I start to look at cat calendars. I usually have two calendars in my home: one in my office and one in my kitchen, and of course, they're both cat calendars. I just quite a bit of thought into which calendars to get every year, because after all, it's something I'm going to look at every day all year long. I was delighted when the folks at BrownTrout Publishing offered to send me some of their cat calendars for review.

BrownTrout is a worldwide market leader in calendar publishing, and their calendars, regardless of the subject, are simply gorgeous. The photographs are beautifully composed and of stunning clarity and color. And they offer a huge variety of cat calendars.

One of my favorites is the Cat Lovers Calendar. This full size wall calendar features one large and three smaller photos for each month.

cat-lovers-engagement-calendar

I also love the Cat Lovers Engagement Calendar. Generously sized, this calendar features 70 full color photographs on heavy duty card stock, plenty of room to write down engagements each week, and a pocket for storing important papers.

If you prefer a smaller planner, the Cat Lovers Monthly Planner is the perfect size to carry in your purse.

BrownTrout also offers several color and breed specific calendars, including black cats, calico cats, tabby cats, Maine Coons, Ragdolls, Himalayans and many others. The only thing I couldn't find was a tortoiseshell cat calendar. Allegra and Ruby have already started a petition to rectify this grievous omission.

356-kittens-calendar

And for kitten lovers (and who doesn't love kittens!), there's a kitten for every day of the year in the Love Kittens 365 Days Calendar.

With so many choices, it's going to be hard to choose just one or two calendars, but you don't have to! Remember that calendars make perfect inexpensive gifts for the cat lovers on your holiday list.

 How about buying a calendar from a cat rescue group? Enjoy it all year and help the kitties too!

 Thank you for sharing the info and discount we can get for these calendars. We here at the office are going to pick some up to give to the other staff or people that may come in. The 365 kitten one may be our favorite to get. Have a wonderful day.
